

Four Corner Reflection:

Staff are put into groups that travel the room that is being used. Images and/or quotes are transferred onto large poster sheets and each group must visit each "stations" to complete the reflection of the quote/image.

"Ideally people should be going to School and going to University and really coming out feeling fulfilled, not just feeling that their time was just filled up."

Richard Branson, Virgin Group

